

Calvin L. Smith (ed.)

The Jews, Modern Israel and the New Supersessionism

New Revised and Expanded Edition

This book explores the relationship between the Jewish people, the Church and Israel from biblical times to the present. Fifteen essays from contributors with published work in the field provide readers with a careful and objective examination of the issue from various perspectives, at a time when the debate surrounding the relationship between the Church and Israel raging within Evangelicalism is increasingly polemical and polarised.

Reactions to the First Edition (2009)

A large portion of the word of God in the Old Testament is being misinterpreted or deliberately avoided by those who have adopted the teaching that the Christian Church has replaced Israel and that the ancient promises made by God to Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and David are now passé. However, Calvin L. Smith has edited a set of chapters in a new book that makes a vital contribution towards rectifying this imbalance in interpretation. May it spark a long-overdue discussion among Evangelical interpreters of all persuasions as well as one between Jewish people of the book and believers in the Christian Church.
— Walter C. Kaiser, Jr., Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary

It is refreshing to see a biblically grounded presentation of God's faithfulness to Israel that affirms the gospel for the Jewish people and the idea that God will keep his promises to Israel.
— Darrell L. Bock, Dallas Theological Seminary

A book of this quality, character and courage has been needed for decades!
— Mitch Glaser, President, Chosen People Ministries

The book will strike a strong note in response to growing supersessionist influences regarding God's promises to Abraham and his descendants.
— Robert L. Thomas, The Master's Seminary

The articles in this book... seek to answer biblically some of the oldest heresies in the Church. I warmly commend this book and pray that it will be widely read.
— David Torrance, retired Church of Scotland minister and author

Cont'd/...

Contents

A New Supersessionism?

1 The Real Roots of Supersessionism

2 Parting of the Ways: Jewish-Christian Relations in Postapostolic Period

3 Denouement of Triumphalist Supersessionism: European Churches & the Holocaust

4 Jealous for Zion: Evangelicals, Zionism & the Restoration of Israel

5 Who is the Israel of Romans 11:26?

6 The NT & Supersessionism

7 Biblical Theology, Israel & the Alien

8 Apostolic Jewish-Christian Hermeneutics & Supersessionism

9 A Calvinist Considers Israel's Right to the Land

10 Jewish Believers in Jesus & Supersessionism

11 Supersessionism, Messianic Jews & the Jewish Community

12 Is the Gospel Relevant to the Jewish People?

13 Faith & Politics in Today's Holy Land

14 Israel & the Continued Purposes of God

Editor:

CALVIN L. SMITH, PhD. is Principal of King's Evangelical Divinity School and editor of the Evangelical Review of Society and Politics.

Cont'd/...

Contributors:

COLIN BARNES, M.Th. lived and taught in Israel before serving as a missionary in Pakistan

BRIAN BREWER, M.A. is Administrator of the Centre for Jewish-Christian Studies, King's Evangelical Divinity School

ANDY CHEUNG, Ph.D. lectures in Biblical Studies at King's Evangelical Divinity School

RONALD E. DIPROSE, Ph.D. is Academic Dean, Istituto Biblico Evangelico Italiano

RICHARD GIBSON leads Leeds Messianic Fellowship and is on the board of BMJA

MITCH GLASER, Ph.D. is President of Chosen People Ministries, New York

BARRY E. HORNER, D.Min. is author of Future Israel: Why Christian Anti-Judaism Must Be Challenged

STEVE MALTZ is a popular author and broadcaster on the Hebraic roots of Christianity

TONY PEARCE leads the Bridge Lane Christian Fellowship, Golders Green, London

JACOB PRASCH is the founder of Moriel Ministries

HOWARD TAYLOR served as a missionary, minister and university lecturer

STEPHEN M. VANTASSEL, Ph.D. teaches Theology at King's Evangelical Divinity School

PAUL WILKINSON, Ph.D. wrote For Zion's Sake: Christian Zionism and the Role of John Nelson Darby